June at the Market

The official start of summer is Tuesday, June 21, 2022!

Technically speaking, the summer solstice occurs in the Northern Hemisphere when the earth arrives at the point in its orbit where the North Pole is at its maximum tilt toward the sun, resulting in the longest day of the calendar year.

In simpler terms, school's out! Time for barbecues and trips to the beach. Days are long and the golden sun ushers in a playful period where we can savor summer's gifts of nature. Crunchy cucumbers, ripe tomatoes, juicy peaches, sweet corn, mouth-watering watermelon...

When you think of summer, chances are that fresh produce plays a large part of your memories.

The merchants of the Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market love to share their expertise - and maybe a tale or two - about summer produce. From local to exotic, our knowledgeable teams can guide you through the process of buying and selling produce at the peak of perfection.

Let us take you back to the carefree days of the roadside farm stand or introduce you to imported delicacies from the other side of the world.

Happy Summer!

Celebrating 11 Years!

June 5, 2022 marks 11 years since the Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market opened its doors at 6700 Essington Avenue. A long, rich history of produce trading in Philadelphia culminated into North America's most advanced fully-enclosed, fully-refrigerated produce facility. 11 years later, we are still paving the way as a leader in cold chain management, product safety, staging, loading, security, and recycling as we provide the region with fresh produce all year long!

Avocados from Peru Educational Meet & Greet

On May 25, 2022, the Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market, in conjunction with PhilaPort and the Peruvian Avocado Commission, held an Educational Meet & Greet. We learned about inspection procedures for avocados at the Port of Philadelphia, Peru's 2022 Avocado Crop & Export projections, best handling and storage practices, and marketing support available to retailers and food service.

Thanks to everyone who attended!

P.S. Did you know that PhilaPort is #1 for Peruvian avocados?
