November A Time of Thanks and Giving

There's a reason why Thanksgiving is rated as the most popular holiday in the United States. What could be better than gathering with family and friends and reflecting on all that we have to be grateful for in our lives? Oh yeah, there's the feast, too. And football. And parades. And naps. And leftovers.

“Gratitude helps us to see what is there, not what isn’t.”

~ Annette Bridges

We at the Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market give a nod of thanks to everyone along the supply chain who provides fresh food to our region. Whether it's a local farm or a far-away port, the hard-working men and women who grow, harvest, inspect, buy, sell, and transport produce are the backbone of our industry. As wholesalers, we are proud to be a part of the system that puts fresh fruit and veggies on your store shelves and dinner tables.

Wishing everyone a healthy, peaceful Thanksgiving. Visit us at pwpm.net or, better yet, experience November at the Market for yourself where “fresh is our life’s work.”

New York Produce Show & Conference

Mark your calendar for November 29 – December 2, 2022!

The New York Produce Show and Conference is a world-class event in a world-class city. This four-day event includes networking opportunities, a one-day trade show of over 400 companies, retail “thought-leader” breakfast panel, educational micro-sessions and tours of the region’s vibrant industry, including local retailers, wholesalers, food service distributors, urban farms and unique eateries.

The Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market will once again participate at the trade show on Thursday, December 1st. Join us at booths 252-258 and we'll introduce you to the coldest man at the NYPS! Take a selfie with "Chilly Philly" and he'll give you a warm beanie hat in return. Oh, and did we mention that we'll be serving up our fresh veggie and Italian hoagies? Back by popular demand, straight from the City of Brotherly Love.

You can also sign up to visit the Philadelphia Wholesale Produce Market on an industry bus tour on Friday, December 2nd.

Hope to see you there! For more information, visit nyproduceshow.com

Thank a Veteran on 11/11

Every year, November 11th, Veterans Day, honors and remembers military veterans who served in the United States Armed Forces. Originally celebrated as Armistice Day, it commemorated the end of World War I, formally recognized on the “11th hour, of the 11th day, of the 11th month” in 1918.

In 1954, the holiday was changed to “Veterans Day” to pay tribute to all veterans who honorably served in wartime or peacetime.
